Richard Gaskill

Dr. Richard L. Gaskill has worked in mental health for 42 years. He is currently the Executive Director of Sumner Mental Health Center in Wellington, KS. Rick also served as Children's Director and Clinical Director before becoming the CEO. He is a Licensed Clinical Psychotherapist, Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor, Registered Play Therapist-Supervisor, and an Infant Mental Health Clinical Mentor. Rick was a founding member and past president of the Kansas Association for Play Therapy and served on the Board of Directors for the national Association for Play Therapy, as well as, a reviewer for the International Journal for Play Therapy. He also helped found the Kansas Association for Infant Mental Health. Dr. Gaskill is an adjunct faculty member at Wichita State University, teaching play therapy and supervising play therapy practica since 1995. He was a cofounder of the WSU Approved Play Therapy Center in 2010. Dr. Gaskill is a Child Trauma Academy Fellow. He has published and lectured extensively on the neurobiology of trauma and play therapy throughout the US, Canada, and Australia.

About The Training

Neuroscience supports a relational model of child trauma treatment. Interpersonal elements of relevance, repetition, relating, rhythm, reward, and respect (six R's) are used to create a neurobiological healing matrix. The workshop operationalizes these interpersonal-neurobiological concepts into understandable terms and practices.
